TALES OF THE TRAILS—Sierra Madre honors its Search and Rescue Team with a float that gives graphic illustration of the unit's many missions of mercy. It is titled "Tales of the Trails." The seal of the Mountain Rescue Association is displayed on the back side of the mountain, which is being scaled by animated figures. The three mummy Princesses appear at the peak's base, being tired in the Alps lederhosen. Mountaineers appear at mid-float with the faithful bloodhounds. The founder of the group Fred La Lone appears at the front with the summit flag in his grasp. Small pine trees placed about the area add realism to the outdoor scene. Principal colors of the 51,000 flowers used in decoration include yellow, lavender, pink and dark purple, all colors of the rugged mountains. Our float won first Prize in under 15,000 category.

Christmas For Children?

Ganparents Get Best Treat From Christmas

Who says Christmas is for children? Everyone knows in his secret heart that the day is for grandparents, for who really has as much fun? Children are anxious about what they'll get, and tired and cranky after they get 1 Mothers and fathers are fit tired, period; busy, busy, before, during and after the holiday.

Bu ah, how a grandparent comes into his or her own. For one thing, every extr thing done is a bonus that some one can be appreciative of. You can stop your efforts and rest when you want to (unless, of course, you are a working-grandparent type). You have the time to plan and shop ahead, to linger long and happily over store displays and make a field day out of shopping instead of a nightmare.

You have the time to fuss with making a pretty package, to make a cake, to bake ahead of time, because things like cookies and fruit cakes (my grandmother used to make her own plum pudding and mince meat, too) all improve in flavor with aging. You usually have decorations saved from year to year, so you don't have a frantic last-minute scramble for those.

If you are the hostess for the family dinner, you are sort of grand chef, with daughters and daughter-in-law scrambling around under your direction, and lots of hands to wipe and dry the dishes — if you're not so modern that you have a dishwasher. Or the grown and married gals pitch in and each bring part of the dinner, so you get the hostess role and they do the work.

Services For F. de Mezirard

Funeral services for Felix de Mezirard, 77, of 242 E. Montecito, were conducted Wednesday, January 4, at 10 a.m. by Rose Hills Mortuary at the graveside in Rose Hills Memorial Park. The Rev. Thomas J. O'Malley officiated.

There was a memorial service in the Mortuary Chapel on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. deMezirard, a resident of California for 50 years, was born in New York, and died Wednesday, December 28, in Huntington Memorial Hospital. He is survived by his wife, Lucille of the home address; a daughter, Judy L. Becker, and a grandson, Jeffrey C. Becker, of Pasadena.

Fire Department Honors Marshal Bert Embree

The report is that that was quite a successful bash the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department held on New Year's Eve as a going-away party for Bert Embree, the city's first Fire Marshal, who has resigned his post to accept that of Fire Chief of Morgan Hill.

Over 50 fire fighters and their wives attended the buffet for which the men provided both solid and liquid refreshments and did the clean-up. Setting was the hill-top home of R. Robert Evans, newly admitted to the volunteer ranks, but experienced as a volunteer in other communities. Party time as Fire Marshal, what from 7 to 10 p.m., but because the host surreptitiously stopped the clocks, it went on a while longer than that.

Fire Chief Charlie Brown presented Bert Embree with a gold pin amid comments that he'd doubtless used up many of them during his time as Fire Marshal, what with all the classes he attended. And everyone presented personal regrets at the departure of Bert and Velma Embree and their family from our community, where this year they have been co-presidents of the PTA. The whole town as well as the Fire Department will miss the Embrees.

Edwin Haines Selected For Training

EDWIN E. HAINES
Airman Edwin E. Haines, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Haines of 612 W. Manzanita Ave., Sierra Madre, has been selected for training at Sheppard AFB, Tex., as an Air Force medical services specialist.

The airman, a 1964 graduate of Pasadena High School, recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He attended Pasadena City College.

Simpson's, Germain's Cooperate

The cooperation side of the Sierra Madre float presentation in the 78th Annual Tournament of Roses was portrayed in the following story encompassing one of our leading Garden Shops, Simpson's of Pasadena and their wholesale seed supplier Germain's.

It was late on December 31 when the float Association discovered that they did not have sufficient "Turnip Seed," this being the product used in the lettering on the float. Jerry Adkins immediately thought of Simpson's Garden Town and contacted them relative to their shortage, but as Robert Duke, General Manager of Simpson's explained, ten pounds of turnip seed is hard to come by this time of the year especially on December 31.

Duke immediately went to work on the project and contacted Germain Seed Company of Los Angeles, was successful in reaching its Vice President who took time to go to the warehouse in Los Angeles and secure the needed seed.

The fact that the floats appear on New Year's Day is just a very small part of the work and cooperation that is necessary by thousands of workers and fringe people who take their time to fill in the necessary gaps. Our special thanks goes to Simpson's Garden Town of Pasadena, the vice president of Germain's, and the Germain Seed Company for their efforts in helping to put "Tales of the Trails" in the tournament.

New Year's Eve Dance & Buffet

Over fifty members and their friends enjoyed an informal dance and a mid-night supper buffet at the VFW Post at 40 E. Montecito Ave. on New Year's Eve.

The party was given by the Harry L. Embree Post No. 3208 and its Auxiliary, and Post Commander Karl Humberg served as host, with Mrs. Dick Patterson, Auxiliary President, as the hostess.

Toy Soldier Meetings On Thursdays

The monthly Toy Soldier meeting will hereafter be held on the first Thursday evening of each month, beginning January 5, from 7 to 8 p.m. in the Park House in Memorial Park. Girls wishing to become a Toy Soldier can either just turn up at a meeting to apply, or contact Mrs. Helen Peterson, the Toyarian, at the Toy Loan Cottage during the time when it is regularly open, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 2:30 to 5 p.m.

Toy Loan borrowers please note that the Cottage re-opens this Tuesday.

Council To Air Tract No. 27459

The City Council will meet in adjourned session this Thursday evening at the hour of 8 p.m. with the entire evening being devoted to the Sierra Madre Estates, Tract 27459, more commonly known as the "Neutzel Tract."

Councilwoman Maddox and Councilman Wagner, have not as yet, had a number of questions answered and several defaults corrected, and it is anticipated that some solution will be suggested as well as methods of compliance demanded.

Plantings, sprinklers, erosion, sinking of the streets, improper drainage, accounts receivable and accounts payable, engineering and responsibility will be some of the things that will be discussed and determinations made.

It is the desire of all Councilmen to end up this almost 5-year battle, and since some ten to twenty homes are anticipated to be built during the coming year, these outstanding points must be cleared up for not only the City and the Subdivider but the security of future purchasers and builders.

The next regular meeting of the City Council will be January 10 at the hour of 8 p.m.

State, County Show a Big Business Gain for 3rd Period

Each Californian spent an average of $446 during July, August and September for taxable goods for a record that period, a state revenue official disclosed this week. Los Angeles County's share of that total was $3.4 billion, up 8.2% from last year's third quarter.

Richard Nevins, Southern California member of the State Board of Equalization who made the comparisons, said the statewide total was 6 1/2% above the comparable period in 1965.

Taxable sale revenues for the third quarter of 1966 meant $85.5 million in sales taxes for cities and counties as their 1% share and $261.5 million to the state as its 3% share.

Californians each spent about $293 in retail stores, up almost $7 in the third quarter, and an average of $37 for meals and drinks in restaurants, about $2 more than a year ago.

The total represented a $521.7 million gain, but $96 million could be attributed to an extension of the tax to equipment leases and private party sales of boats, vehicles and airplanes.

Almost every major county matched or surpassed the average rise for the state. San Diego led with a 12.4% gain, followed by Orange and Santa Clara at 11.9%, Nevins said.

He credited higher wages, employment and prices for the record sales.

Sierra Madre did not fare so well as the balance of the state, as figures for our city showed that we had a loss of 4.9% over the same quarter of 1965, even though the tabulation shows that we had three more retail businesses than the year

1965. The tables did show, however, that we had a gain of 1.1% in the number of retail businesses.

Outstanding Citizen To Be Selected

The Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce is now in the process of selecting its "Outstanding Citizen Of The Year." The one selected will be named at the Chamber's annual installation of officer's dinner to be held in February.

Jerry Asher, chairman, and promoter of the first year for such an award stated that the one chosen will be presented with a revolving trophy, a sterling silver bowl, which will have his or her name engraved.

Letters and ballots were sent to all members of the Chamber the forepart of December with instructions to have them returned no later than January 12. Asher's committee consisting of President Douglas Delahooke, vice president Jim Burke, treasurer Ben Wrightman, and director Lola Rudbach and Jerry Asher, will review the recommendations and make the final selection.

Rose Care Demonstration January 7 - 8

"Home gardeners can have more roses while doing less work."

So said R. L. McNitt, Jr., president of Rose Hills Memorial Park, this week in urging local rose lovers to attend the annual free rose care demonstrations in the park's "Pageant of Roses Garden."

He said that this year there will be two complete demonstrations each afternoon at 1:30 and 2:45 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, January 7 and 8, and again the following Saturday and Sunday, January 14 and 15.

"Many home gardeners here make the mistake of using eastern methods in pruning and caring for their roses," McNitt said. "Our relatively mild winter climate makes radical rose pruning unnecessary and actually keeps the bushes from producing their maximum number of blooms."

"The more than 4,000 plants in the Pageant of Roses Garden are in bloom more than 10 months each year," he continued. "There is no reason why home gardeners can't achieve the same results — while actually doing less work."

"John van Barenveld, American Rose Society director for this district and roarian at Rose Hills, again will use his special mechanical tool to show proper rose pruning. He and his staff will share their successful growing secrets and will be happy to answer questions on care of roses and other plants."

McNitt said ample free parking is available near the garden.

March of Dimes Starts With Letter Plea

An unfilled March of Dimes envelope tossed into a desk drawer may mean a lifetime of pain and misery for a child.

With this statement, Dist. Atty. Evelle J. Younger, Los Angeles County March of Dimes campaign co-chairman, issued an appeal for contributions to the 1967 March of Dimes. Nearly 2 1/3 million county residents were sent letters during early January.

"As your dimes and dollars were the salvation from polio for future generations, your donations today will free tomorrow's children from a more devastating crippling — birth defects," he asserted.

If the work of the March of Dimes in patient care and research in the field of birth defects is to continue, he pointed out, it must be supported by the public.

"The March of Dimes has assumed an overwhelming burden in its battle against this major disease."

"Medicine has moved forward in its research into the causes since the battle began in 1958, but there are only the first skirmishes in the long fight against this crippling," he emphasized.

The slogan of the 1967 March of Dimes has been "Fight Birth Defects," the volunteer leader noted.

"That fight is being waged daily in laboratories, in hospitals and universities across the country, but it must be backed by the public with general contributions, a public which will benefit when the battle is won," the chairman said.

Residents are urged to send in their contributions to March of Dimes, Los Angeles, 90054.

'1976 Committee' Plans Decade For America

An organization called "The 1976 Committee" has announced a ten-year crusade to restore the American Republic. It is hoped that when the committee is fully formed it will consist of at least 100 members, hopefully with representation from each of the 50 states of the Union, but membership is not to exceed 100. New members are to be elected by the current membership, with the intention of founding members that the Committee will dissolve and go out of existence on July 4, 1976.

The Committee was formed at a meeting in Chicago on April 30, 1966. Its purpose is to inspire, promote and guide political action which will help to restore, maintain and strengthen the United States, in accordance with the concepts of government as set forth in the Bill of Rights and the Constitution. Based on the realization that informed public opinion is a powerful force, the Committee hopes to crystallize public awareness and attitudes behind a political action program to provide political leadership for the anti-Communist, anti-socialist movement.

At present this Committee is urging both conservative Republicans and conserva-

Vehicle License Renewal

With more than eleven million vehicle registration renewal statements now in the mail, it's license plate sticker time again. This time, the stickers are blue, and they go in the upper left hand corner of the license plate.

Registration renewal started Tuesday, Jan. 3, and continues through Monday, Feb. 6, the deadline for renewing without penalties.

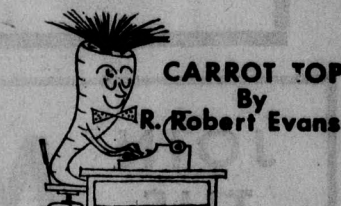

Normal office hours at the 146 statewide DMV offices are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. In addition, all DMV offices will be open from 8 a.m. to noon every Saturday until the Feb. 6 deadline.

Motor Vehicle Director Tom Bright announced that more than 150 bank locations are cooperating with the department by providing space for issuing license plate stickers during normal banking hours.

Motorists are reminded that only persons with the new renewal cards will be able to renew and obtain stickers at the bank locations.

Anyone not receiving the new renewal card should take the 1966 registration to the nearest DMV office for processing.

In Southern California, 112 bank locations are helping the department in its renewal. Bank services will not be available in this area.

We offer top congratulations to Chairman Ben McGee on his rendition of the Sierra Madre Float for 1967. It was certainly a job well done, and Sierra Madreans could ask for little more.

Very few of us realize the amount of thought and work goes into preparing the float for the Tournament of Roses Parade. To do all of this and still publish a newspaper, and the thousands of other things that come at this time of the year certainly requires a year of hard working and congenial crew. We, like you, are certainly proud of the presentation.

Another group of boys that we are certainly proud of is your Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department. Besides being on call constantly for fire disaster, they took time out on December 23 to prepare for the gigantic Christmas Party that was held in Memorial Park Christmas Eve.

Over 1000 children received their annual Christmas stockings from Fireman Santa Claus. Firemen took their time away from their families on Christmas Eve that they could bring joy to the children of the area. Saturday morning they did other chores that helped to bring joy to those who may have been forgotten.

This was the 40th annual affair, which is planned from year to year and monies are raised from the annual Christmas Dance held early in December.

So, now, we are on our way through 1967, very little difference than the end of 1966, except, maybe one can feel in his mind that a new sheet has been turned over and now he has a chance to make a change — this thinking is generally good for a couple of weeks, and then like all good resolutions are forgotten and life settles down to income tax and the process of paying for the Christmas bills that surely roll in by the dozens.

Hey, have you heard the one about the devil who backed into a lawnmower, then went into the Bottle Shop because he had heard they retailed spirits?

Almost as bad as the conversation I heard between our City Administrator Darwyn Dennis and the City Attorney Charles Martin —

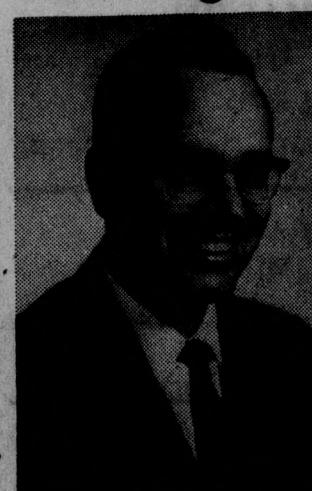

Dennis: "Say, did you get that Goldworth estate settled?" Attorney Martin: "Yes, but I had a terrible fight; the heirs almost got part of it." Since Cranston is out, I fail to see how this happened.

This is an old one, but then I will tell it again, because it takes up space, and since we now have over 400 more subscribers than we had a year ago, maybe someone has not as yet heard about it.

You and Your Neighbors

by Mary-Madeleine Lomphier

Not news is a full household at the Joseph Delgatto's over the holidays, but always a good time for this closely knit family. John, now at PCC and enthusiastic about his studies in communications, was already at home. For Christmas: the two married sons and their families came over: Joseph Jr., from San Gabriel, brought Anthony, Michael and Mary Anne; Peter brought over Peter, Jr., Theresa and Stephanie. Between holidays there were out-of-town guests; Joseph Delgatto's sister, Mrs. Charles Kobes, came from Bellwood, Ill. with daughter Charlene, and her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller, came from Las Vegas with their children Debbie and Sheri, to visit with his mother at the Delgatto's. It's likely that New Year's will be for quiet recovery.

There were eight of the Sidenfaden family at the opening day of Santa Anita, but although two of their horses, Hildale II and Ar Vee Dee were on the program, their numbers were not drawn to run. However, filly Ochs Thrills was to run last Friday, and Tyre King is scheduled to do so later. For once this family stayed home over the holidays; seems that attempts to book 17 people at once, sought since June for three different trips, simply bogged down the travel bureaus. So Mr. and Mrs. Sidenfaden just had a couple of days for golfing at Palm Springs, will take five days in Las Vegas in mid-January, spend a week in Honolulu

Twins have a way of compelling the spotlight just because they are twins, and the more especially when they come home for Christmas, as did Marianna and Naomi Stapel from their respective studies in language and music at UC Santa Barbara. But this trip they really had a lot of competition, because their parents, the Doug Stapels had their assorted children together for the first time in ages. That is, all except for Janet's son Anton Chaitkin and his wife Janice, recently returned to N.Y. after three years in Europe and Africa. And the big news reason for their absence from the home and holly scene was the birth of their son Peter on December 24, first grandchild for the Stapels. But Janet will travel to N.Y. to see them around January 20. Among the 50 odd people in the Stapel house on Christmas Day were Janet's other son David Chaitkin and his wife Carol, who came from N.Y., after being away two years in Paris. Doug's son, Malcolm Bly, his wife Barbara and children Sheri and David came from Berkeley, and his daughter Andrea and her husband Buddy White came out from Kansas City, where Buddy is attending orthodontia school.

Hospital Auxiliary Has Philanthropic Day At the Races

Sierra Madre Community Hospital Auxiliary members will combine fun with philanthropy when they attend Santa Anita Park for the auxiliary's "Day at the Races" on Friday, January 6. This is the first day for charity events at the race track.

Mrs. Herbert Hargraves, ways and means chairman, is in charge of the event and is being assisted by Mrs. Jack Tilley, Mrs. William Meek, Mrs. William Sullivan, Mrs. Otto Anderson and Mrs. Arthur Schoepke.

Mrs. Jack Tilley, executive hostess for the group will greet those attending and show them to their seats. The convenient Club House Terrace with an unobstructed view of the finish line will have reserved tables for the auxiliary.

Early reservations have been made by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wharton (she is the unit's president), Dr. and Mrs. Norman Johnson (he is chief of staff), Mr. and Mrs. Jack Eisenhart (she is the assistant administrator), Dr. and Mrs. Melville Jacobs, Mrs. Henry Wade Sr., Mrs. Edward Chapman, Mrs. E. N. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Schuepbach, Mrs. David Perry and Mr. and Mrs. James Hall. Following the races many are planning to go on to evening dinner parties.

Proceeds from the event will go to the Intensive Care Improvement fund, says Mrs. Wharton, which is the group's current project. Among other donations made recently to our local hospital were a Bircher Heart Pacer, an Isolette Unit for the newborn, a patient lift, a central feeding system called a Unitray Cart for serving hot food hot and cold food cold, and nursery and surgery room improvement funds.

In addition members give many volunteer hours of service at the hospital under the motto of "We Care." An excellent training program for both senior and junior members is sponsored by the group and the Candy-strippers which is the teenage group is an important part of their program.

Horacio Gutierrez, Reginald Fields In California Concert Artists Series

On Sunday, Jan. 8, California Concert Artists Series will begin its early 1967 trio of concerts with a presentation of pianist Horacio Gutierrez and tenor Reginald Fields in the Shakespeare Club, 200 S. Los Robles, Pasadena. The program will commence at 3 p.m.

Mr. Gutierrez, a veteran of this series, has been widely acclaimed as an electrifying performer and sure to be one of the top within his generation. His concerts have included many local recitals as well as appearances with Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic, the Los Angeles Philharmonic, and the Pasadena Symphony Orchestras.

Selections from Bach-Busoni and Chopin will comprise Mr. Gutierrez' program on this series.

Recently returned from his tour of duty in Germany, where he was assistant director and soloist with the 7th Army Soldiers' Chorus, Mr. Fields is winning many notable commendations for his vocal achievements. Among these are "Artist of the Future" and Hollywood Bowl Certificate of Merit.

A diverse group of songs spanning four centuries has been chosen by Mr. Fields for this series.

The second of this concert trio will be held Sunday, Jan. 15, featuring Susan Smeltzer, pianist, and Paula Swornay, soprano. On the following Sunday, Jan. 22, the final concert of the group will be offered, with Bonnie Boyd, flutist, and Jeffrey, pianist, to be heard.

Ticket information may be obtained through California Concert Artists Series, 721 Brent Ave., South Pasadena, 682-2969.

Florence Pride Passes In Home

Mrs. Florence D. Pride, a 22-year resident of this city, passed away suddenly in her home at the age of 78, after a brief illness.

A Sierra Madre housewife originally from Washington, Mrs. Pride is survived by her daughter, Mrs. John Pedroni, who lives in Claremont; her son, Robert Barton Pride, who lives in Madison, Wis.; her sister, Mrs. Sam Andrews, who lives in San Bernardino; her brother, who lives in Vida, Ore., and four grandchildren.

Private services and committal were held Dec. 30 at the Pasadena Mausoleum. Final rites and interment were at Appleton, Mis. Arrangements were made by Ripple Mortuary of Sierra Madre.

Meet Jan. 10

The regular monthly dinner meeting of the Foothill Chapter, Society of California Accountants, will be held in the Sierra Room, Eagle Rock Lanes, Los Angeles, Jan. 10, at 7 p.m. Jack Krancus, a tax consultant of Long Beach, will speak on the subject "Tax Problems." Inasmuch as this is a very vital subject at this particular time, all interested accountants are invited to attend.

Work Meet

Thursday, Jan. 12, at 10 a.m. the Shakespeare Club Philanthropy Department will hold a work meeting in Stratford House. Mrs. Langdon N. Tannehill, Welfare Chairman; Mrs. A. J. Fredrick, Director.

The Menu Story

by Frank P. Burke

This story is a little different due to the fact this place didn't have a menu.

My dinner on Christmas Day was one I will always remember — and cherish — because this one was ENTIRELY SUPERVISED by my CHARMING NIECE — BONNIE BURKE!!

To begin with she had a most beautifully decorated table was started with mushrooms stuffed with crabmeat and the first wine was B.V. (Beaulieu Vineyard) Pinot Chardonnay.

The roast beef — a rolled "Eye of the Round" selected by her favorite butcher "Red" from Roess Market.

This was served with a beautiful raspberry fruit mold AND IN THE CENTER one of the most delicious Waldorf salads I have ever encountered.

I am not much for carrots, but she prepared them cooked in butter with just a scent of BASIL; string beans with almonds and mushrooms — and baked potatoes with sour cream and chives — OR cheese sauce.

We had Buena Vista Sauvignon (Cask Wine) and Chateau Robair ('59) EXCELLENT.

To make it short — I'm very proud to be an uncle of such a wonderful person —

To the Sierra Madre News — THANKS.

Reminder: A phone call to the Donor Service 624-8821 can help you channel your extra abundance to others who can use it. Whether it's an extra fur coat, a wig, an old set of electric trains, a no-longer needed crutch or tickets you'll not be able to use, give it away the efficient way by calling this number. Paste it on your bulletin board.

Remember that the Pasadena Art Museum is open Tuesday evenings, till 9 p.m. (I'm for a petition to have it open Sunday afternoons, too). A stroll along East Green between Lake and Euclid will net you several art galleries to browse through, weekdays, that is.

But open on Sunday afternoons is the Altadena Artist Cooperative Gallery, 2245-C N. Lake Ave., and also the Huntington Library and Art Gallery. At the latter there is an exhibit on Science to 1800 which should prove both interesting and educational to those with eager beaver science students in the family. Someone should do an over-all show on the changes which have occurred during just the past 25 years, or even just the past decade! (Would such a show make pet pupils more patient with plodding parents? Probably not, but it might console us).

This New Year's buffet luncheon by Mrs. Conyers L. Cross on Monday, Jan. 2, 1967 included guests from all around, but that's not surprising, for Mrs. Cross has lived in Sierra Madre since 1910 and her family's name is very much present in the annals of our city and the issues of the M. from its beginning.

Tests for her party were: and Mrs. Randolph Twycross, with Linda, Dale and Bonnie; a Bob Keeger and Miss S. Bowers, all from Whittier; and Mrs. T. J. This New Year's buffet luncheon by Mrs. Conyers L. Cross on Monday, Jan. 2, 1967 included guests from all around, but that's not surprising, for Mrs. Cross has lived in Sierra Madre since 1910 and her family's name is very much present in the annals of our city and the issues of the M. from its beginning.

Tests for her party were: and Mrs. Randolph Twycross, with Linda, Dale and Bonnie; a Bob Keeger and Miss S. Bowers, all from Whittier; and Mrs. T. J. Lang from Norwalk; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Vandermeer from Bellflower; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll L. Lang with Tony and Barbara from San Susanna and Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Krowel from Elundo. Also, there were Mrs. Fred Ashley of Downy; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dotson with Steve, Shari, Rita and Valerie from Monterey; Mr. and Mrs. Brainerd Olson of Encino; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nervik of Mission Hills; Roger Vandermeer, along Beach, and Richard C. Wyross.

An APOTHECARY Weights & Measures

SAFETY EVALUATION FOR YOU!

Maybe this sounds like quite a mouthful to start the HAPPY NEW YEAR with, but it is a subject that is becoming more important day by day for YOU and ALL OF US!

We have just read a resume of a talk by George R. Cain, chairman and prexy of Abbott Laboratories. We will "gist" it for you.

"We, not the government, should evolve better methodology, extend basic knowledge, upgrade standards still further, and be as errorless as modern science will permit." This is sure asking a lot from our scientists, but if the government agencies will do less creative work and let industry do it, it will accelerate our pace of drug discovery, which will help all people.

Drug safety is now everybody's concern, even though it has been the pharmacist's paramount concern for a long, long time. Now, most any politician can, virtually overnight, become an expert in toxicology, and lay-writers quickly acquire enough jargon to discuss pharmacological procedures, resulting in a great proliferation of interest but LACKING in real sound THINKING in this highly complex field.

We at Hartmans are constantly schooling and studying to keep abreast of this responsibility we have to the health of YOU, our friends. Our pharmacists welcome your questions on all such matters. Stop by and talk to them.

Women's Club Holds Luncheon For Business, Legislation & Safety Talk

To get together again after the holiday festivities, Sierra Madre Woman's Club meets at 11 a.m. on Jan. 11 at the Clubhouse, 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

After an important business session, according to President Mrs. Roy E. Griffin, Mrs. Clifton Clouse, Legislation and Safety chairman for Verdugo District CFWC, will talk on her special branches of federation work.

At noon there will be a luncheon put on by Mrs. C. J. Dibbern and Mrs. J. C. Dewar who have made a flattering name for themselves by undertaking the very tricky task of producing something, in the line of food, pleasing to the assembly and yet somewhat remunerative for the club. Keep it up, ladies, we like what you serve!

In the afternoon, members will be entertained and enlightened by Dr. Dixie Sturgis, Ph.D., lecturer and coach in personality development, who brings to her audience a treat that produces both amusement and wisdom along lines of psychology, physiology and philosophy.

Members are urged to bring friends to enjoy the rapport of club members, who are always ready and willing to meet new people, as well as the inspiration engendered by our good programs along very varied lines.

Newcomers to the town who are interested in the work of women's clubs are invited to come and get acquainted.

Luncheon reservations should be made by Monday, Jan. 9, with Mrs. Georgia W. Kirby, 355-9174.

Elementary School Menu

Monday — Tater pups, crispy celery sticks, diced peaches, ranger cookie, bread and butter and milk.

Tuesday — Hamburger with fixings of lettuce, pickles and cheese, buttered corn and mixed vegetables, prunes and milk.

Wednesday — Oven fried chicken or meat balls, mashed potatoes, carrot fruit ambrosia, pumpkin pie, French bread and butter and milk.

Thursday — Meat and cheese enchilada, refried beans, green salad, banana, bread and butter and milk.

Friday — Macaroni and cheese, tomatoes and celery, deviled egg on lettuce, cherry sauce, buttered roll and milk.

Kathy Ower's Engagement To William Schmidt Announced At Family Party

A family Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Ower 481 Mariposa, was the setting for the formal announcement of the engagement of their daughter Kathy to William Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt of Zion, Illinois. Despite mid-west winter weather, Bill and his father managed to fly here from Illinois in time for the announcement party.

Kathy was born in Zion, Ill. and came here with her family some 19 years ago, but, although her family and that of her fiancé had long been friends, she had never met Bill until last summer when she spent a vacation in Zion. Kathy attended Sierra Madre School, John Marshall Junior High, and Pasadena High, as well as PCC. She is now employed with Allstate Insurance Company.

Bill Schmidt has lived in Zion all through his youth, attended Zion Benton High and is now studying to be a chiropractor at the National College of Chiropractic in Lombard, Ill.

Date for the wedding has not yet been set.

Crib Crop

The Huntington Memorial Hospital stork had a double billing this month.

The starring female was Jennifer Sierra Knuth, weighing 8 pounds and 13 ounces, born to Jill and Donald Knuth of 630 Fairview Ave. on Dec. 12. She was baptized last Sunday at Faith Lutheran.

Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Knuth of Menomonee Falls, Wis., are visiting Jennifer, her 1½-year-old brother, John, and family now. Jill's parents, Dr. and Mrs. James Carter, are due out soon from Fostoria, Ohio.

The leading male role was monopolized by Charles Nelson Nootbaar when he arrived on Dec. 14, weighing 7 pounds, 7 ounces. He brings to four the number of members in his family living at 745 S. El Molino Ave., Pasadena. The other members are daddy, John; mommy, Linda, and big sister, Sally, who is 2½.

Both pairs of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Nootbaar, and Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Nelson, have been over to visit.

YOUR CHURCH IS WAITING FOR YOU

Intermediate Bridge Classes Start Jan. 16

Registration is now being received by the Pasadena Department of Recreation, 1501 E. Villa St., for the new series in beginning and intermediate bridge starting Monday, January 16.

The classes will be a lecture period followed by supervised play of the hand. Mrs. Sue Swanson and Mrs. Florence Pattison will teach the Goren Count Point System of Bridge.

Monday night instruction gets underway at 7:30 p.m. January 16, with one class for beginners and one class for intermediates.

Day classes for beginners will start on Thursday, January 19, 10 a.m. to noon and on Thursday, January 19, 1-3 p.m. for intermediates.

Registration must be made prior to the day of the class at the Jefferson Recreation Center, 1501 E. Villa St., and information on these and other bridge classes may be obtained by calling SY 3-9177.

Organ Classes Held On Wed. Evenings

Pasadena City College has scheduled organ classes at John Muir High School, 1905 Lincoln Ave. in Pasadena, on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m., and also at Foothill Intermediate School, 1100 Foothill Blvd., in La Canada, on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m.

Mr. Thomas E. Handford is the instructor. Mr. Handford is an outstanding organist and combines teaching with professional playing. He recently returned from an entertainment engagement in Hawaii.

During the class sessions, instruction will be on both an individual and a group basis in an effort to meet the needs and interests of those enrolled.

Registration takes place in the classroom, and there is no charge.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Pasadena City College, 795-6961, Extension 261.

Shakespeareans Host Royal Court

The Shakespeareans Club, at its Tuesday noon luncheon, will honor the Tournament of Roses Queen, Barbara Hewitt, and her Princesses, Karen O'Kane, Janet Wopshall, Cheryl Blanken, Katherine Grund, Mary Lynn Senogio and Barbara Beckley. The Civic Interests committee will have as their special guests Mrs. Boyd C. Welin and the Tournament officials and their wives: Messrs. and Mmes. H. W. Bragg, Peter Davis and Max Coldwell. Mrs. Howard H. Hotelling, chairman, will introduce Mr. Bragg, who will introduce the Queen and her Court. Mrs. Kenneth H. LaMond is chairman of Public Affairs.

At 1:45 p.m. in the Shakespeare Auditorium, Terry Cole, soprano, and Lynne Bock, pianist, will present "American Theater in Song and Rhyme."

Mrs. Harvey H. Gunn is program chairman.

Better Times ... for You

No other word than "if" starts off so many hard-luck stories. No other word explains so many failures. Yet it's the backward-looking word which crystallizes our experience . . . and when used as a guide, enables us to look forward with more wisdom.

► For example, we might say "IF every dollar of local money that has been needlessly spent outside of this trade area in past years had been spent at home, those of us who live in this community would be more prosperous, happier and more secure."

► And thus contemplating what might have been . . . IF . . . we can make our plans and our resolutions to avoid the costly habits we have let ourselves take up in the past.

► We can see more clearly now a dollar here and a dollar there . . . saved from dribbling away into the economic life-stream of some other community, will soon add up to brighter and more prosperous times . . . for us and our children, and for our friends and neighbors.

It Pays to Buy Where You Live

Don't Sell U.S. Short

Contemporary happenings have a way of changing appearance as they recede into the pages of history. It is interesting to conjecture how historians will record the economic status of the U. S. during the 1960's. The headlines will tell of strife and poverty. Production indices, on the other hand, will indicate an abundance such as no nation had ever known. For the sake of the record, it should be reported that although large numbers of people are classified as poor by government definition, very few Americans are actually denied the minimum acceptable level of health, housing, food and education.

In 1960, according to Mr. M. A. Wright, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, only about 7 per cent of American dwelling units were dilapidated. By 1964, more than 90 per cent of American households had television. Four out of five households had telephones and at least one automobile. Among families, officially classed as "poor," earning $3,000 or less, there is more material well-being than might be thought. For example, over 75 per cent own a television set, about half own both a television set and a telephone, three fourths own a washing machine, 20 per cent own a home freezer, 65 per cent have a dwelling unit that is not dilapidated, with running water and bathroom facilities for their own use, and approximately one in seven bought a car last year.

Admittedly, statistics are unreliable guides in measuring poverty. However, the foregoing should be of more than passing interest to historians.

Laws Versus Reality

Another example of the futility of seeking to alter our environment overnight by the simple process of writing a law may be seen in the state of New Hampshire, where the legislature is considering a bill requiring all future power lines to be installed underground and all present lines to be so installed within 20 years.

Assuming such a program is technically feasible, the cost estimates are staggering. The following are figures for two companies—the Public Service Company of New Hampshire and New Hampshire Electric Company. The electric systems of the two companies consist of 1,330 miles of high voltage transmission lines and 6,975 miles of low voltage distribution lines. The cost of installing these lines underground, as compared to the investment in these lines based on actual cost when constructed, presents a chilling picture.

The high voltage lines involve an investment of under $13 million. The estimated cost of putting them underground is $386 million. The low voltage lines involve a present investment of under $48 million, contrasted to an estimated underground installation cost of $446,500,000. Therefore, the ultimate increase of investment to place present lines underground is $772 million. This is almost five times as much as the total capital invested in the two companies at the present time.

It does not take any imagination to figure out what would happen to power rates if the companies were compelled to expend three quarters of a billion dollars. Power lines will go underground when technology makes it possible. Laws alone cannot put them there.

Turning Back the Clock

A group of doctors went to Washington a short time ago to appeal for an easing of a ban on clinical testing of a new pain-relieving drug. Their appeal was refused by the Food and Drug Administration. An aerospace medical expert likened the FDA's disbelief of scientific testimony on the drug to the disregard given Semmelweis, the Austrian physician who said in 1847 that physicians should wash their hands before delivering babies.

The drug, called DMSO, is the only known drug to give relief of certain crippling diseases. At a Cleveland, Ohio clinic, 50 patients are in critical condition because the drug has been withdrawn at the order of the Food and Drug Administration. The drug has been withheld from these patients by government order because massive doses in animals—some 250 times the recommended dose—have resulted in eye changes. One scientist pointed out that a 250 times normal dose of aspirin would have even more disastrous results.

The spectacle of a group of the country's most eminent scientists having to travel to Washington to plead for the privilege of conducting their work on behalf of critically ill patients is discouraging, to say the least. According to news accounts, they were told that action would be taken in "four or five weeks." Patients may have expired by then.

No Truer Words

When a public official issues a statement, it is almost automatically accepted as gospel by the public and not infrequently is invested with an aura of governmental superiority that is not always justified and has no place in the American system. More and more, we have seen public officials use the press release from a high office as a form of punishment or pressure against which individuals and industries have little recourse.

For several years, the U. S. drug industry, which has had an unsurpassed record in the field of research and development of life-saving medications, has had to defend itself against a character assassination campaign that has been inexcusable. Of course, there have been abuses and failures in the drug industry the same as in any industry or any other activity, including politics and religion, but that is beside the point.

Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer of New Jersey went to the heart of the matter when she said, "It is easy to win popularity by criticizing those involved. It is more difficult—but far more responsible—to pinpoint particular shortcomings, draw a ring around these, and seek corrective action, but also to guard against generalizations, based upon unfair implications. Our job in Congress, as I see it, is to think clearly and to speak carefully. Otherwise, the real service that we can perform could become a disservice." No truer words were ever spoken.

FREEDOM AT ANY PRICE

by
DR. HENRY V. WITTY

Management of this newspaper is not capable of answering questions to this column; however letters to the editor will be published, and answers forthcoming from the writer. Articles are of the writer's. What do names like Dorado, Escobedo and Cahan mean to Mr. Joe Public? Probably nothing—but to those who deal with the law and law enforcement and to law breakers, these are the names of land-mark decisions handed down by the California Supreme Court which have vitally affected the lives of all the residents of the state.

In the above mentioned cases, the high courts reversed previous convictions of the defendants (Dorado, Escobedo and Cahan) along somewhat parallel lines dealing basically with the conduct of the investigation of crime and the rights of accused persons. In other words, the decisions were reversed on the basis of technicalities which in no way were connected with the omission or commission (innocence or guilt) of the crimes involved.

A farmer who, going out to feed his chickens, found all of them dead and a fox caught within the chicken yard, would, if he had any sense, shoot the fox. However, if the gamewarden should arrive just in the nick of time and allow the fox to go on his merry way because the chicken wire didn't quite meet the specifications of the local building code, a grave injustice would be immediately and easily recognized by everyone.

The fox, because of a legal technicality which had nothing whatsoever to do with the commission of the crime, would have been turned loose to harass more farmers and kill more chickens!

Since the Dorado decision, numerous reversals on technical grounds have been sought and obtained under this ruling, some of them resulting in the release of persons who had confessed the commission of crimes of the most vicious nature.

Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles tells us: "The situation created by the courts through the Dorado and other related decisions is not only of great concern to law enforcement officials. It is also of the utmost importance in the lives of all citizens."

"The danger is as real as the sledge-hammer slayings of two little girls aged 9 and 12—or the death of a 10 year old girl who was stabbed 41 times. The convictions of the accused killers were reversed by the (State) Supreme Court on 'technical grounds.' IN SPITE of the admissions and confessions by the accused. It is on 'technical grounds' that many convicted criminals are being turned loose to prey upon us—we who can only depend on the law and law enforcement agencies for protection."

The following are the facts in the Modesto case (sledge-hammer slayings referred to by Mayor Yorty) as researched by the Los Angeles Police Department: People v. Modesto, 62A.C. 452—February 11, 1965, "On October 29, 1961, their parents left two sisters asleep in bed and went to the father's place of employment. When they returned later that night, they found the younger sister, age 9, dead on the floor of her bedroom and the older sister, age 12, missing. There was blood in the room and on the bed of the missing girl."

"The defendant was arrested later that night at his home. There was blood in and on his car, and the blood on the rear seat was smeared as though a body had been dragged across it."

"The defendant's sledge hammer with a four-pound head was removed from the trunk of his car, and a chemist found that the hammer had been heavily smeared with blood and had been washed."

"At the time of his arrest defendant was wearing only a pair of shorts. There was blood on his hands, on his shorts and other clothing."

Out of the Cobwebs

Ten Years Ago:
January 10, 1957

Army Pfc. Ernest E. Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Patterson Sr. was selected as a member of the Seventh Army Academy Honor Guard in Germany.

Sally Thayer "having nothing better to do" on a rainy Saturday morning decided to take her horse, Tony, for a stroll in downtown Sierra Madre. Sally, also wanted to buy a brush for Tony. The Sierra Madre Police frowned on the spectacle of a horse tramping the sidewalks.

The Sierra Madre Board of Education sent out letters to colleges inviting applications for the post of Superintendent of Education which was vacated by Charles A. Skutt.

Mrs. MacDonald, long active in girl scouting was installed as the new president of the Sierra Madre Girl Scout Association at the semi-annual luncheon meeting of the association.

Sierra Madre's float, portraying "Halloween," won third place among entries of Class 4-A cities in the Pasadena Tournament of Roses, New Year's Day.

John Conzelman, vice president and chief engineer of Sierra Engineering Company, 123 Montecito Ave., announced that this company has been awarded a production contract for 1000 operating cable assemblies for use with the Northrop artificial arms.

Nine new students were enrolled in Sierra Madre elementary school at the beginning of the new year.

According to "Colliers" magazine, "collecting picture post cards, which was indulged in half heartedly 30 years ago by almost every American family, is today a serious hobby carried on by 5,000 individuals who have

You and Your Neighbors

By Mary-Madeleine Lamphier

Whether or not Mrs. George Parr persuaded her husband to join her once again in the New Year's expedition to Death Valley which they have hitherto made annually for 16 years, they certainly enjoyed a very family Christmas time. From Fresno came Mrs. Parr's daughter Merry Scott, husband William and first grandchild, 5 month old Gavin Scott; from San Francisco came her other daughter, Miss Joan Wilson. Then on the 26th there was a group of the Scotts from Beverly Hills for brunch: Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Scott, their son Stan and his wife Gail; son Bradley and daughter Marylynne; and of course their other guests.

The Robert Poolmans of 310 San Gabriel enjoyed having son Bob home from UC at San Diego over the holidays, and so did Patti and Bill. New Year's Eve was much fun with minimum effort for the Poolmans as they joined with other couples to have a progressive dinner. Participating were the James Nicoletti; the Bill Gibsons; the Hark Danowskys; the Robert Pendlis; the R. LaRues; the Wes Andersons; and the Edward Sevadjanis. Next day they attended a New Year's brunch as well as kept an eager eye on the parade.

John Matter and his wife Mary took time off from all her civic activities, (which include March of Dimes and Ascension group as well as Civic Club) to spend several days at Las Vegas, returning home Christmas Eve for services, and then next day going to Solvang to Mary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Davis. Mary's sister Patsy had just arrived home day before from a whole six months in Europe, so there couldn't have been anything dull about after-dinner talk that weekend. In addition, four of the Davis six grandchildren were there, two being Tony and Carol Anne Matter. New Year's weekend would be quiet, said Mary — like only three parties, one here, another in Buena Park and another at Huntington Beach.

Supervisors Adopt 61 Tax Reform Proposals

Sixty-one legislative proposals, including a top priority, massive property tax reform program, today were adopted by the Board of Supervisors on motion of Supervisor Warren Dorn.

Dorn, in gaining approval of the package which will be presented to the state legislature for approval next month, emphasized that the program "will provide substantial relief to taxpayers and improve county operations and services."

He said the most important phase of the program is a request to increase by one-cent the local sales tax, to be levied county-wide.

"State approval of the increase would bring to the county an additional $127 million, permitting a 90-cent tax rate reduction," said Dorn.

He pointed out that the new revenues would be deposited in the County Property Tax Reduction Fund, created by Dorn's motion last year.

A second part of the tax-relief move is a tax exemption proposal for the elderly home owner.

"These programs are designed to provide property tax relief for all property taxpayers and to give special consideration to the property tax impact on senior citizens with fixed incomes," added Dorn.

The supervisor said he personally will attempt to gain state legislative approval of the county's program, several proposals of which were adopted recently by the state-wide County Supervisors Association of California at Dorn's request.

Also approved by the supervisors was a recommendation that the state increase the state gas tax quota for Southern California, allotting 65 per cent of the funds to this area, instead of the current 55 per cent.

A four-payment for property taxes, to be paid in equal installments — October, January, March and May.

A Vietnam Veterans-Tax exemption; added state reimbursement for fire protection of state interest lands; mental health reimbursement formulas; additional alcoholic rehabilitation funds; stronger laws regarding nudity in bars and cafes, and obscene literature.

Amendments to restore to counties and cities the right to enact police power ordinances supplementary to state law in fields not expressly occupied by state law.

Dorn termed this phase of the program "one of the most important because the county, in many cases, is bound by legal red tape which prohibits arrests in various situations."

He added that the County Supervisors Assn.'s Law Enforcement Committee, of which he is chairman, and the Governor's Commission on Preemption, of which he is a member, are directing their efforts toward solution of the problem.

Another key proposal calls for amendments to give counties more control over welfare administration.

"This program," said Dorn, "would provide a more workable, positive approach to welfare administration, now being dictated by Sacramento."

Burroughs Employment Climbs 19%

Burroughs Corporation this week reported employment at its electronic computer manufacturing facility here climbed 19% in the past year and is double that of four years ago.

Spurred by record world-wide orders and resulting stepped up production, the 1,750 now on the payroll compares with 1,471 on Jan. 1, 1966, at Burroughs Pasadena plant, one of the world's major manufacturers of electronic data processing systems and auxiliary equipment for business, science and industry.

Largest of the Detroit-based firm's operations in California, the Pasadena facility's output includes the B300 and B5500 systems, plus the recently announced B2500 and B3500 systems which use the newly-developed monolithic integrated circuits with operating speeds in billions of a second. The plant also produces Burroughs disk files — high-speed random access data storage devices.

Worldwide, Burroughs employs 37,000 persons, with manufacturing plants in eight countries and marketing activities in 128 nations on six continents.

Lee and Marilyn Skarin of 390 E. Laurel naturally had a Christmas feeling all week, having three children in the house: Kurt, Neal and Eric. Christmas Eve the Emersons came over, and on Christmas Day, Bill and Betty Scharf were their guests. Over New Year's they hosted friends from Sherman Oaks, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eulo, and their children Charles and Kathy, so the Skarin children also had friends with whom to see in the New Year.

Albert Krassman Passes Away

Albert R. Krassman Sr., 74, retired sales representative, passed away suddenly Dec. 29.

Mr. Krassman, originally from Nebraska, moved to 177 Santa Anita Court, Sierra Madre, nine years ago with his wife, Emily, and son, Albert Jr., who still live at that address.

Rev. Mark Trotter conducted services at the Ripple Mortuary Chapel on Saturday, Dec. 31, at 1 p.m. Final rites and interment were at Fairmont Cemetery, Denver, Colo. Arrangements were made by Ripple Mortuary of Sierra Madre.

Illness Takes Mary D. Wall

Mrs. Mary Davies Wall, widow of the late Dr. Arthur Wall, who lived at 153 Santa Anita Court, passed away Dec. 28 after a lengthy illness, at 92.

Twenty-three years ago Mrs. Wall moved to this city from Sharon, Pa. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Gladys Merriman of Sierra Madre; her son, James A. Wall of Los Angeles; two grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Services were conducted on Saturday at 10 a.m. by Rev. Mark Trotter at the ripple Mortuary Chapel. Interment was at Live Oak Cemetery, Monrovia. Arrangements were made by Ripple Mortuary of Sierra Madre.

You and Your Neighbor

by Mary-Madeleine Lomphier

Not only was the "Victorian musicale" presented by Fay Angus a smashing success, but the response to the young people who performed has given Fay the idea that next year it would be nice to have an old-fashioned afternoon children's concert, very white gloves and bows from the waist sort of formal. At any rate, perhaps this is a straw in the wind indicating that now that California has set a standard for casual, relaxed living for the rest of the country, from sports clothes to house styles, it may be about to join hands with Eastern mores and spotlight good manners as a follow-through to the new emphasis on elegance in dress-up clothes. The young performers at the Angus party were the Richter boys, Derek, who played the marimba, and Kurt, who played guitar. And Nancy Solari, who was interviewed by Fay on her radio program in October, was persuaded to read some of her poetry; a swinging evening.

And speaking of the mingling of sections, East, West and middle states, Mrs. Milton Goldberg in chatting about her family's big holiday spree trip to Aspen, Colo. for skiing instead of their usual treks to Mammoth or Badger, reports that Aspen sounded like the outer limits of Texas, there were so many from that state there. In addition to all the "you-alls" heard while waiting in line for ski-tow and chair-lift, it became evident that Texans are not ruled by their children but make old-time parent noises of authority; toughen them up early, too, sending even two-year olds up alone on the lift, which seems pushing it a bit. Happy note for senior citizens and we who approach this category are stories of the memorable prowess of elders on the slopes. Lowell Cabot, for instance, who began skiing in 1910, put the youngsters to shame. The Goldbergs stayed at Shadow Mt. Village, enjoyed the quaint place almost as much as the skiing, and though the weather hovered around zero, found that brisk and pleasant. Roberta and Michael went along, of course, and also Mike's good friend Tim McCall, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. McCall on Grove St. here. Tim had two professional instructors to teach him to ski, for both Roberta and Mike have actually been ski instructors at a ski camp. Mike will be graduating in February with teacher credentials from No. Arizona U., and hopes to be teaching in the LA schools. Roberta, of course, is only a freshman at San Cruz, the "pass or fail" school, so away she'll go again, not taking too much time at present for the extra-curricular service activities which previously made her an Exchange Club Girl of the Year.

Simply superlative was the production of Christmas Carol given by the Children's Theatre of the Pasadena Playhouse. Let's hope it will become an annual tradition for generations of Pasadenians. Budget culture boost: Studio Product at the Playhouse, performed by students, cost only $1 per ticket, and the range of plays is quite varied. Get on their mailing list.

With the last piece of tinsel swept out from under the rug and the last thank-you letter hopefully written, isn't it wonderful to relax and get back to every day living again with nothing more than a battery of birthdays and anniversaries of worry about for the next ten and one half months?

The house looks a little bare and undressed without all of the holiday glitter but you can do something about that if you are bored with all of the inactivity. You can always make plans for redecorating. If you plan it right it might even keep you busy through income tax time and into the summer. That would keep you hopping around the stores shopping again so you won't get out of condition.

Not me, I'm going to sit and rock and read good books and let life just flow by like a lazy river . . . Sure I am!

The "hill group" brought in the New Year with their unusual flare again this year.

Their invitations of hot pink and black beckoned the guests to Come to the Cabaret. The inside was artfully decorated with shocking pink plumes on a French can-can dancer. The party, a black tie affair, started with cocktails and hors d'oeuvres. Dinner, a French menu, of course, was served around nine, and the evening was continued with dancing to the music of a live band.

They decorated the playroom in the fashion of a French Cabaret with sketches of can-can girls a la Foulous Le Tric adorning the walls. The clock, now famous for its yearly change of decor carried out the shocking pink motif. Black background was contrasted with feather fluff balls of pink indicating the hours and the hands were long hot pink plumes. For favors the ladies were all given coronets with the shocking pink plumes, and the gentlemen were presented with top hats.

They managed to create the illusion of France with atmospheric music and their lighting effects. I need not tell you that it is a party that will be long remembered after the music grows still.

This party is always a co-operative party with each couple taking their turn of responsibility in the planning and execution. This year the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Coffey, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Eley, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tuchscher, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meason, Mr. and Mrs. William Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Giangregorio, Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Slavin, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Boal, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Christianson, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rode, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hackney, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Dunn, Dr. and Mrs. Clete Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Morgridge, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnston, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Boland, Mr. and Mrs. John Freschi, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Holloway, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Owen, and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Paxson.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Christianson had a large open house on Christmas day for their friends. Their guest of honor was Ken's mother, Mrs. Carrie Christianson, who came from Eugene, Oregon to be with the family for the holidays. Also with them was Tish Young, who is now living in San Francisco with her grandparents.

There were around one hundred and twenty guests that came during the afternoon and evening to join in the merriment.

The "Supper Club" had their annual New Year celebration at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Germain. They all invited extra guests to join them for the evening.

The group included Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Huber, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klingerman, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Paquette, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Schmitt, Mr. and Mrs. George Amthor, Mrs. John Wiles, Mrs. Frank Doan, and Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Rogers.

A belated congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Alkman Armstrong, now of Washington, D.C. They celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on December 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Howell chose New Year's day to have a few of their friends and neighbors in for an open house celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hopkins of Windover Road have been celebrating the New Year for almost nine years with the same group of friends. They are not always together all evening, but somehow they manage to get together during some part of the evening. This year the gathering was at the Hopkins on Windover Road. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Beavers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Don Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Young, Mr. and Mrs. Nevill Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Slama, Miss Norma Downey, and Mr. Earl Cherniack. In addition, a few of the neighbors dropped in during the evening to sip a cup of cheer and to wish them a Happy New Year.

Reverend Howell Discusses Query

Rev. David G. Howell will discuss the question, "Do We Need a Change?" on Sunday, Jan. 8, at the 10 a.m. worship service at Sierra Madre Congregational Church.

Mr. Howell will deal with two things that irritate most people; namely, stagnation, which is life without a sense of progress, and boredom, which is life without a sense of happy anticipation.

The next Women's Fellowship meeting will be on Tuesday, Jan. 17, in the evening.

their first trip in a plane which took off from Salt Lake City, heading east. At Denver the plane landed and a little red truck sped out and refueled it.

At Kansas City the plane landed again, and again, a little red truck sped out and refueled it. The same thing happened at St. Louis. And it happened again in Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

One of the men looked at his watch and said: "This plane sure made fast time from Denver." The other man replied: "Yep and that little red truck isn't doing so bad either!" And that is the way we start out the new year. Corny as H . . .

In closing the first column of the new year, I have this remark to make — "It's always gratifying to have people not only read the editorial column but to comment on it favorably as well. However, these kind remarks always make the writer wonder how many readers there are who disagree with opinions expressed but won't speak up. An editorial column probably become more effective and the writer more capable as adverse criticisms are passed on the same as the compliments. The paper invites such differing opinions given orally but more especially expressed in the form of letters. A strong editorial page presents differing sides of issues and is often judged for its quality by doing just that." I hope, I hope, I hope.

Sierra Madre Visitors, Holiday Travelers :

The Aldon Melzians had son John home for the holidays from Long Beach State where he is majoring in industrial design, so he had a chance to catch up on news-sharing with his comrades of summer poolside days (he works at the Sierra Vista pool during the summer, shepherding the young swimmers.) His parents had a full New Year's weekend, with the Los Alamos Yacht Club party and then a house party at the San Bernardino Ranch near San Diego. Lannae reports that Creative Arts classes were resumed Tuesday, January 3, and that the staff there is looking forward to an Open House to be held sometime in February to introduce new teachers and give demonstrations. Any-one visiting the Esquire Theatre for a movie next month should take an extra look around at the paintings on exhibit, a continuous project, because Lannae will have one of hers there as part of a show by the Contempo Group, a group of 24 women artists who exhibit together.

The Robert Walkers have hung pinatas again this year, but for only the second time in some 15 years will probably not have a pinata party; instead they will hold open house for friends and family to meet their friends the Arthur Schramms and their daughter Janice who are visiting from New York. The Schramms had hoped to see their son, a Marine, at San Clemente, but he was shipped overseas before they arrived. However they have more than one reason for the trip. Mrs. Schramm is transferring to USC at Berkeley; and Mr. Schramm is the brother of the former "Tattler" Valentine, who lived in Sierra Madre before she married Ben Solari and moved to Bakersfield about eight years ago. On Christmas Day the Walkers had just the immediate family for dinner: Judy, who came from Westwood, Byron, Scott and Sandy. On the 26th they had a second big family dinner and then began planning the New Year's open house.

You can't tell over a phone, yet, if someone is really cross-eyed, but that's what Lila Olson of the new Tia Nita swore she was day after the double Christmas holiday, and furthermore she said she had told her household she didn't want to see a single face that didn't live there! All this an understandable state of affairs, of course, since she was the center of a vortex of visiting after the whirlwind of preparation and shop tending for the new place to function for holiday gift buyers, with her own family gift seeking delayed till the proverbial day before. The Olsons visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Martin in Linda Vista on Christmas Eve, accompanied by cousin Mrs. Georgia Mc-

Kelvey from Oklaoma with Chris and Patty; Santa came to their house Christmas morn and then 31 family members gathered at the home of her sister, Mrs. Paula Huber, and that night her immediate family visited her husband's sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Bob Hanson in San Clemente, which was founded by Mr. Hanson's grandfather. More — on the 26th arrived Lila's sister Mrs. Marsha Shelton, whose husband is a Major in Viet Nam, tooting around in a helicopter, so Mrs. Shelton is moving here with children Mark and Katy for the duration to ward off the loneliness.

With the Christmas gifts of art sets, backyard games (yes, horseshoes are chic this year), sports and camping equipment still cluttering the house in happy disarray, it is timely to remind the harassed mother and wife that she would do well to take the matter of hobbies for hubby quite seriously. Seems that the more executive a man is when he retires, the more difficulty he is apt to experience in the readjustment. He may be more likely to continue in the community service activities he probably gave time and effort to, but the danger here is that, having the heavy schedule habit, he may get up to his ears in appointments and have to learn painfully to slow down. So cherish and foster your man's hobbies now, and help him to make plans for expanding them gradually as time goes on. The men (and women) who remain part of the stream of life the ones who remain healthy. Better to acquire patience with the materials of creativeness or games than to have to acquire it for pills and treatments, yes?

Whether it's a wedding or an engagement, imagine the flurry in a household where such coincides with Christmas, as it did for the Albert Owers. Their holiday gathering included Dennis and wife Linda from Sierra Madre, Kathy, of course, and Terry who lives at home; son Jack married to Lois who came from Monrovia with children Gail, Illora and Cindy, who was born just Dec. 17; and daughter Lynda, married to Jerry Salters, who came from Pasadena with children Cherie, Johnny, and Mandy.

The guest list for Mrs. Ruth Barden's fab party on December 22 was as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Benedict, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crehan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellet, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fay, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Herbert, Mr. and Mrs. G. Norman Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Mankin, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Narcowich, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reese, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Velasquez, and Dr. Kim Madill.

The Earl Andersons didn't have son Daniel, his wife son Daniel and his wife and daughter Rhonda here from Portland for Christmas but they are of good cheer because Daniel and family are planning to move to this area after the school year. They did have son Richard home for the holidays from his graduate work at Claremont College, and daughter Judith, her husband Nathan Rundlett from Granda Hills, his parents Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Rundlett and the three grandchildren, Anne, Kirsten and Stephen.

a national organization and support two magazines. Of their many outstanding collections, the largest is that of a Californian of Sierra Madre which contains 1,000,000 cards and is valued at $200,000." Francis P. Conard, who formerly lived at 33 W. Mira Monte, is the collector referred to.

30 Years Ago:
January 8, 1937

Ralph Cheyney won a baker's dozen of prizes, including publication in "Verse Craft," a nationwide publication for poetry, for his poem, "Wonder of Wings," which was inspired by a motion picture about a bird refuge.

Over three nationwide hookups—NBC, CBS and Mutual—famous announcers broadcast into millions of American homes glowing descriptions of "The Lady of the Lake" float which represented the Wistaria town in the Rose Parade and carried Martha Louise Sharp as "The Lady" and her sharp book lover portrayed by Selwyn Myers.

Lee Shippey has published a new book, "The Girl Who Wanted Experience." He scheduled an autographing session for home-towners, many of whom are represented in his book.

It was expected 70,000 car license plates would be issued in Pasadena as compared to 55,000 in 1936.

50 Years Ago:
January 5, 1917

Entering the Rose Tournament Parade on New Year's Day for the first time in many years, Sierra Madre succeeded in winning prizes in two divisions. In Class A for civic bodies, the Board of Trade entry was given fifth place. In the Novelty Division, first honors were won.

Rewarding the strenuous efforts of members of the Sierra Madre Red Cross, the silver trophy of the national membership contest has been received. The cup was presented in recognition of this city's membership being the greatest increase per capita in 1916.

Citizenry was warned about accepting C.O.D. parcels, as some companies send out packages as samples in the hope that the addressee will accept them although they were unordered.

You and Your Neighbors . . .

by Mary-Madeleine
Lamphier

Among those attending the big party at Mrs. Ruth Barden's, in addition to Tid and Gina Velasquez, were the G. Norman Kennedy's and Mrs. Kennedy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moorman, here for a couple months visit from Sterling, Ill. The Kennedy's held Open House Christmas Eve, so successfully that guests lingered on and the grandpater took the boys Scot and Jim off to Christmas services. Next day the Kennedy's were joined for dinner by Miss Mabel Swiney and Miss Enid Perkins of San Gabriel, the friends who gave the Kennedy's their big anniversary dinner. Also guests were neighbor Mrs. Ray Kissinger, her teacher daughter Denis and son Charles, PCC student.

Wonder the whole house wasn't glowing like fluorescent up at Dave and Mary Roess' house on Lowell, because son-in-law Ron Sharpless managed to wheedle his way out of the hospital before Christmas, after a four-months stay due to that helicopter crash. His wife, Nancy had taken a job in Bishop to be near him during the hospital stay, with a promise to remain over the Christmas week-end, so ironically she was not here for the day itself, but of course Sheryl-Anne was. Nancy came up Tuesday in plenty of time to celebrate the beginning of a truly New Year, and will remain here with Ron while he gets physical therapy treatments to shape up for return to work for his former employers at Mammoth Lake. (He reports there was two feet of snow in town at Mammoth this week). For Christmas dinner at their home, Dave and Mary Roess were joined by his sister, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Oelschlager from Bel Aire, with Eric and Ken, who was able to get leave home as his ship is in for repairs at Long Beach. Mrs. Lillian Roess was out of town this time.

SPORTS AS Hank Ives SEES IT

WILL JOHNNY MCKAY be criticized for his strategic maneuvers in the Rose Bowl clash? You had better believe it. That's coaching biz. There were many fans that saw the spectacle who would have been just plum tickled to death with a 14-14 tie. McKay played it to win all the way and it is to his credit that the Trojan war-horse bounced back from a horrid first period effort to take the play away completely from the Big-10ers.

MCKAY WAS BEING soundly criticized for not using burly Homer Williams to bull the ball into the endzone when the Trojans found themselves with a first and four yards to go in the final period following a brilliant Rod Sherman reception. Williams stood on the sidelines while three downs and a blocked field goal attempt failed to add to the Trojan tally.

BUT LOOK AT THE BRIGHT SIDE... All the fellers who gobbled up USC and 14 points were winners. Rod Sherman was utterly fantastic with his pass catching. The Trojan secondary did a good job guarding Griese's passing. Don McCall ran better than any of the Purdue backs. USC dominated the final three periods of play. The Trojans gained a moral victory. Thing of it is—Purdue won the game.

AFTER AN INCREDIBLE WEEKEND of watching football on the big tube I came away with these impressions. 1. The professionals have some mighty talented draft pick in the pot. (Michigan State's George Webster and Clint Jones, Notre Dame's Nick Eddy, Georgia's Jim Patton, Alabama's Ray Perkins, Florida's Steve Spurrier, Bob Griese and Rod Sherman, are ready for the play-for-pay ranks.)

2. Kansas City will give the Green Bay Packers a real rugged afternoon when the two clash in the Super Bowl, Jan. 15.

3. The Green Bay-Dallas best pro games played in many moons.

4. The Packer defense that stopped the Cowboys from scoring after a first down and two yards to score situation, must be one of the best ever assembled.

5. Mike Garrett has made good in pro ball. What a day he had against Buffalo.

6. Never has the West been so outclassed as they were in Saturday's Shrine tilt. I mean no contest.

7. I would rate the college teams I saw this weekend something like this: 1. Georgia, 2. Alabama, 3. Purdue and USC (that darned thing should have been a tie) 5. Florida, 6. Tennessee, 7. Syracuse, 8. Georgia Tech, 9. S.M.U. and 10. Nebraska.

A QUICK GLANCE AT 1966 ON THE LOCAL SPORTS SCENE... What a great season Pete Yoder and his Blair Vikings had. Unbeaten in league play, 10-1 on the season and their only loss a 7-0 thing in the mud to CIF champ El Rancho.

WHAT A TREMENDOUS passing exhibition put on by Eddie Valdez and Margene Adkins as they carried the Henderson Cards to a 40-13 thumping of Pasadena in the J.R. Rose Bowl Game.

IN THE UPSET DEPT. it would be difficult to beat UCLA's 13-12 triumph over Michigan State in the 1966 Rose Bowl.

KUDOS TO SUCH INDIVIDUALS as Dave Buchanan, the Muir grid and track ace, who would have stood the CIF on its ear, except for "super" star Mickey Cureton... Sandy Vance, ex-PHS hurler who had a great season as a Stanford Freshman and with the semi-pros... Dick Rallsback who soared to new heights as a pole vaulter at PCC... Dick Williams, who won the American Association playoffs and became manager of the Boston Red Sox... Stan Smith for his fine net play... Skippy Robinson and Curtis Seagrove for bringing All-American grid honors to the Pasadena Lancers and a trip to the JRB... The Glendora Rotary for presenting a thrilling San Gabriel Valley All-Star football class last August. (Remember 29-26).

OLD HANKUS rounded out his football picking totals to 169-61.3 and a .735 per cent with a 5-3 Bowl forecast. I'd best settle for that.

Two-Thirds Drop In Building

A dramatic drop in building permit valuations is shown in the recapitulation of the 1965 and 1966 totals. The total number of dwelling units for 1966 was 34, all single unit while the 1965 total was 140 which included several multiple units. The valuation reflects the drop even more pointedly with valuation of $1,282,062 for 1966 and $3,103,415 for the year 1965.

Total number of building permits for December, 1966, 10 permits, valuation $7,466. There were no dwelling permits issued.

Street, electrical and plumbing permits, 52, with fees collected, $477.41. Plan check and building permit fees, $151.50.

Business license fees, $3,334. Dog licenses for December, $67. Bike licenses, 9, $9.

Net operating earnings reached a record $113,037,170, or $3.97 per share on the 28,480,000 share outstanding. This compares with $101,734,333, or $3.57 per share earned during 1965.

Total deposits rose to $16,416,743,201 and loans increased to $10,916,854,426 representing a deposit gain of 10 per cent and loan growth of 8 per cent since a year ago.

Resources, not including subsidiaries, now stand at $18,386,546,228, an increase of $1,857,588,624. Separately reported are resources of $581,205,230 as of December 31, 1966 for Bank of America (International) in New York.

The bank now operates 902 branches throughout California, and its international network includes 44 overseas branches, 11 representative offices, and interests in 32 banks and financial institutions in 53 countries and territories throughout the world. During the year 12 new branches were opened in California and 10 new branches were established overseas.

Investments in securities totaled $3,496,763,871, a compared with $3,303,086,228 a year ago.

Transactions in securities yielded a net profit of $1,623,706. Provision for reserves amounted to $14,080,000, after resulting tax credit, leaving $100,580,876 available for dividends and addition to capital funds.

Capital funds of $935,514,023, together with reserve for possible loan losses of $173,370,390, increased $46,984,675, and now total $1,108,884,413.

Dividends totaling $56,960,000 were paid to more than 200,000 shareholders at the annual rate of $2 per share.

'Far Cry From Star Gazing' By Rev. Hesse

In observing the Festival of Epiphany, commemorating the Magi's visit to Bethlehem, in the 10:30 Sunday morning worship service at Faith Lutheran Church, 845 Hastings Ranch Drive, the Rev. Armin Hesse will speak on "A Far Cry From Star Gazing." The festival will be observed with the Christmas trees still decorating the church chancel.

The Sunday choral selections will include the introit and gradual by the Senior Choir. The Junior Choir will present "Shine, Lovely Christmas Star."

At 9:15, the Sunday School departments will meet in the parish hall under the direction of Mr. Donald Hingst, the church's Minister of Education and Youth. At 7, the young people of the Walther League will meet for the "Successful Training" training course.

On Monday evening at 7:30, Psychologist Norman Miller will present another lecture on "Christian Parent-Child Relations," to which the parents of the congregation and community are invited.

Other events on the parish schedule for the next week include: The Junior Choir and Board of Evangelism on Tuesday evening at 7:30; the Children's Mid-week School on Wednesday from 4 to 5:30; the two Adult Bible courses on Wednesday evening at 7:30, followed by the Church Council meeting at 8:30; the semi-monthly weekday Bible Hour on Thursday morning at 10, followed by the Lutheran Women's Missionary League at 11, and the Senior Choir rehearsal on Thursday night at 7:30.

Dr. Barnhart Announces Sunday Topic

"What the Santa Anita Church Can Do For You" is the January 8th sermon-topical of Dr. Ethel Barnhart at the 11 a.m. Workshop Service of the Santa Anita Church, 228 W. Colorado Blvd., Arcadia. This is an opportunity to know what the non-denominational Santa Anita Church teaches and where it fits into man's world today. The public is cordially invited. Infant and young child care is provided during the service.

Your child's world of tomorrow can be assured if he learns how to build his life on spiritual understanding. Our youth teaching is a vital part of this church. Graded classes for youth from kindergarten through high school are provided at 11 a.m., following a 15 minute worship with the adults in the sanctuary. We lovingly enfold all youth in our prayers.

The second semester of the tutorial course in making 1967 a really New Year of new experiences. "Please call 446-8206 for detailed information if we may serve you through this course," says Dr. Barnhart. She continues with: "We invite you to receive spiritual help day or night by calling our Dial-for-Prayer, 447-6162."

Nurses Training Offered To Start Feb. 6

Women interested in becoming nurse's aides will have the opportunity to earn and learn under a training program scheduled to begin at California Hospital, 1414 S. Hope St., Los Angeles, on Monday, February 6.

Barbara Jury, director of nursing, announced that the project, slated for six weeks, will combine on-the-job experience with nursing studies.

Participants will receive partial reimbursement and a chance for permanent employment upon completion of the program, she said. Deadline for applications is Monday, January 23.

Open to everyone wishing to engage in an occupation devoted to the service of others, the training course will be held daily, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., according to Miss Jury.

Additional details may be obtained by contacting the California Hospital nursing office, 748-2411, Ext. 333.

One of the major problems being faced by hospitals under Medicare, Miss Jury stressed, is the shortage of skilled personnel to meet accelerated health needs.

Through the earn-and-learn program and regular nursing refresher courses, California Hospital seeks to alleviate the growing crisis in nursing.

Next week the Pasadena Art Museum will be opening two new exhibitions: Joseph Cornell and Jeremy Anderson.

Potluck Dinner Staged By Pi Lambda Theta

The San Marino home on Robin Road, of Mrs. Lucille Beall, former president of Pi Lambda Theta, will be the scene of the annual All Nations Pot Luck Dinner, on Saturday, January 7, at 6:30 p.m.

Members of Alpha Psi Chapter and their husbands will come in traditional foreign dress, in keeping with the pot luck dish they are bringing.

Recent travel experiences will be related. Artifacts and mementoes brought from foreign countries will be exhibited. Recipes will be exchanged.

Folk singers Patsy and Alan of UCLA fame will present their usual diversified and highly entertaining repertoire.

This evening will further the cause of "Know How Through Diversity" which is the activity theme for the year.

President Helen Turner of Pasadena, promises a very enjoyable and memorable evening.

You and Your Neighbors by Mary-Madeleine Loughlin

The evening typing brush-up course given by Pasadena High School will resume on Thursday, Jan. 5. These next seven sessions will be devoted mainly to building speed and accuracy in a concentrated effort to prepare for Civil Service and general industry exams. There will be 10 electric and four manual typewriters available for the first typists who come to room 204-I this Thursday at 7 p.m. Teacher is Jean Cox; call 796-3728 if you have questions.

There are those who say the best part of the Rose Parade is the night before, watching the antics of the night-long watchers holding down the choice viewing spots, with camping equipment, bonfires going, hot things to eat available. My vote of interest would be for the college kids, the gals casually dressed in slacks, with hair windblown and the sunset and the lipstick kissed away, the boys practicing protectiveness and strolling with an arm around their gals, and most of the young couples obviously bemused by the sheer perfection of the day and the golden sun, thinking it spring. Anyone who saw the two who kissed in front of me near noon while I waited to get to work, and then saw how the young lad took her hands and tenderly kissed them in the best of romantic tradition, would likely relax about who wears what during the slim budget days of going to college. They are not confused... about some things.

At the New Year's party given by the Velasquezes in La Jolla, the university crowd included guests from Spain, Australia, Kakistan, India, with the shimmer of several beautiful saris, but Gina, glowing in red velvet, outshone them all.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown entertained family on Christmas Day, with guests including Mr. Brown's mother, Mrs. Myrtle Brown; his aunt, Mrs. Frank O'Brien; his sister, Mrs. Pearl Lutzow, and her son, Kenny, and Mrs. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Faris Harkins from Lucerne Valley.

"Let's
Talk
Dry Cleaning"

by Joseph Delgatto Sr.

Winter time is party time, especially during the holidays. As any woman knows, parties are more fun if you're dressed for them. And women's party clothes and formal are on the really elegant side this year. Devastatingly beautiful dresses in a splendor of color lead the fashion parade, many encrusted with sparkling jewels and ornaments. To dry clean such clothing successfully, not only must the fabric from which the garment is made be considered (including trimming) which goes to make up the entire article.

As a rule, ornaments, jewels and metal and stone-studded buttons must be removed before dry cleaning. Sequins and other bead trimmings are usually too numerous to be taken off, and require very special cleaning care. Trimmings that are a different color than that of the main garment have to be tested to make sure that the color won't "bleed."

You can trust the cleaning of your precious formal to us with complete confidence that we will give them attentive care and return them to you impeccably clean and new-looking. Remember, with fine clothes especially, the sweetness of low price never makes up for the bitterness of low quality!

Letters To The Editor . . .

PEACE OFFICERS
ASSOCIATION
Dear Friend of Safety:
This is a "citation" uniquely different from the citations normally issued by personnel of the Los Angeles County Peace Officers Association.

It is a citation in appreciation of the support given by all segments of communications media to Operation Tailgate, the uniform and accelerated enforcement program in Los Angeles, Orange and Ventura Counties to curb this major cause of traffic accidents.

Although it is too early to have an accurate assessment of the results of the uniform effort, preliminary evaluation is extremely encouraging.

Through your support and cooperation in Operation Tailgate, we are certain that lives have been saved, injuries prevented and accidents reduced.

To you and your colleagues we say "thank you, thank you very much" and we express to you the greetings of the season. May 1967 be a prosperous year and we know it will be a better year for many because of your interest in the cause of safety.

Sincerely,
—IVAN A. ROBINSON,
President.

Poetry
Monday, Jan. 16, at 11:30 a.m. the Poetry and Creative Writing Department of the Shakespeare Club will meet in Stratford House with Miss Nettie Wicklund as hostess. Miss Lois Robinson will give an account of the writings of Jesse Stuart. Original work will be presented by members. Miss Florence L. Swindell, Director.

Kappa Delta To Begin New Year

The Pasadena Alumnae Association of Kappa Delta will begin the new year with a dessert meeting Tuesday, January 10, at the home of Mrs. Ray Untereiner, 2048 Rose Villa St., Pasadena. Following dessert a program, "Kats Are Fun," will be presented by Rosa Keohn.

Committee members in charge of refreshments are Mrs. John Donath James, Mrs. Leighton B. Tuck and Mrs. Fred R. Holford.

Officers of the Pasadena Alumnae Association held their board meeting, Tuesday, January 3, at the home of Mrs. M. Wesley Wile in Arcadia. Plans were discussed for the Diamond Jubilee Pot Luck to be held in February at the San Marino Congregational Church.
